

FROM LITTLE THINGS...

The Emerald apartments in South Melbourne have been touted for their beautiful attention to detail. We take a look at the custom-designed bathrooms, produced by Omvivo for Hecker Guthrie.

The launch of The Emerald in South Melbourne marks the successful completion of one of the city's latest exclusive residential developments. Designed to reflect fashionable inner-city living, Hecker Guthrie saw that every facet – including the bathroom, one of the most important rooms in any home – was treated with equal care and consideration.

“The floating cabinetry and storage elements, along with the reflective surface finishes, create a larger sense of space,” says Hecker Guthrie, of the apartments’ general fit-out.

The bathrooms have received particular attention, featuring a custom designed and produced vanity concept by Omvivo for Hecker Guthrie. For this particular facet of the project, Hecker Guthrie approached Omvivo with a vanity concept created specifically for The Emerald apartments. Omvivo took the concept and, working closely with Hecker Guthrie, fine-tuned the details.

“With a very specific design in mind, and wanting to create an open framed minimal vanity basin, we saw Omvivo as the perfect partnership to develop the conceptual ideas into a built form that would reflect the desired aesthetic for The Emerald building,” says Hecker Guthrie of the collaboration.

As part of the process, Omvivo took Hecker Guthrie’s concept and created a range of vanities to suit the exact project requirements, from concept design and production through to supplying the project. Taking the concept one step further, Omvivo designed a second vanity range, offering purchasers two bathroom options to select from.

Specialising in luxury contemporary bathware, Omvivo offers a collection of contemporary designer bathroom products, as well as custom designing and producing bathroom fittings and fixtures for discerning designers and developers. Omvivo’s Melbourne-based facilities with in-house design team and superior production resources are utilised to produce project specific designs to suit particular aesthetics or solutions for residential and commercial environments.

Following the launch of The Emerald, Omvivo is releasing the range of wall basins, named Arki and developed with Hecker Guthrie’s blessing, into a suite of products for the Omvivo collection, (available from May 2015).
